

Message from Mrs Mead

Good afternoon everyone and I hope you are not too wet after the last couple of days rain.

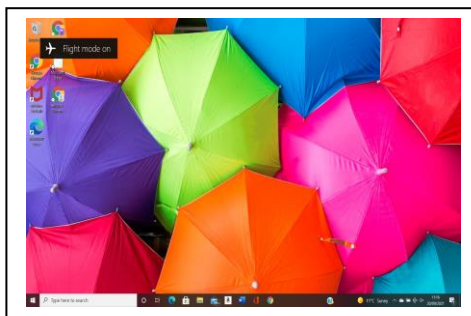

We said a sad farewell to Alycia today who is off to bigger and better things and we wish her well. We hope that she will visit us often though!

I am heading off to Scotland for a few days over half term and I hope you all have some nice things planned for the week.

Have a lovely break and we will see you all on Monday 19th February, ready for another fun filled half term.

Take Care

Mrs Meadx

WORLD BOOK DAY

Thursday 7th March 2024 is World Book Day and we are planning a range of activities around books and reading.

We will be having an open morning - details will follow after half term - when you can come in and join us for some story telling.

We would also like the children to make some STORY JARS! At home.

These are jars that the children should fill with things that tell the story of their favourite books.

Here are some ideas:

Alice In Wonderland

The Tiger Who Came To Tea

We will talk more about these when we get back but please make a start for your holiday homework!
